A Family with a Big Heart!

Farmer's Harvest

I have heard nothing but wonderful statements about the lesson Cameron shared Sunday. I look forward to listening to it myself as soon as it is uploaded and share in your excitement. I appreciate the elders and their foresight to allow me some time away to recharge a little bit. We spent the weekend with all our children and grandchildren then hosted a family reunion on Monday. Many of you were concerned by the amount of cars at the house and felt comfortable calling and asking if everything was ok. You don't know how wonderful that made me feel about being here in Henrietta and a part of this church family.

PRIME TIMERS be sure to be planning on being here on Sept. 13th at 9 a.m. for our Prime Timers Rally. We need everyone's help in making this a success. There are some flyers on the table in the foyer you can take and pass out and distribute around town if you would like. Lets make this a great time of fellowship and worship.

We lost a dear member this past week. James Cowley left the earth last Monday morning and his services were Wednesday at 2 pm here at the building. Please keep Anna Jean and the family in your prayers.

This Sunday we will be looking at "Loving the Unlovable". Please read Matthew 5:43-48 this week in preparation for this lesson.

The elders will begin making visits to bring home those who have not attended here as they should. We want them to come home, but we need to make sure we are ready to accept them as well. May God give us the opportunity to reach out and let those who return how happy we are to see them. Keep praying for me!

I love you all,

Britt

TEEN BEAT

As I write this I am sitting in a hotel in El Reno, Oklahoma where my family has converged for a family reunion. There will be 5 generations of our family represented with something along the lines of 1 matriarch, 2 children, 12 grandchildren, 30 + great-grandchildren, and too many great, great grandchildren to count. It is truly a memorable event. But that got me started thinking, what about our church family. Too often we take our family for granted until something happens to one of them and they get sick, get in trouble, or pass away.

Do we have those same relationships with our Christian brothers and sisters? Would you go out of your way to be together with them? Would you miss them if they were not close at hand? Or are you quite content in the knowledge that they are there? The Bible tells us that we are to spur one another on to good works, that we are to strengthen and encourage each other; that we are to build one another up.

My question for this week is, what kind of relative are you to your Christian brothers and sisters? Are you that strange cousin that shows up occasionally at family functions, or are you that person that everyone misses when you aren't there? Clearly we are called to be the latter. Have a great week.

In Him,
Todd
